

Please do not let the NAB ruin a good thing. I got satellite radio because I was sick of hearing only one or two songs on the way to work while the rest of the programming was all commercials. Satellite provides much better programming (which I pay for) than radio ever will. Don't get me wrong, I still listen to radio for local news but I prefer satellite. If the NAB gets their way, local radio has no reason to improve and compete. It'll just be the same old crap
